DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 11 is unclear since claim 1 now recites that there is one arm with at least two conditioners. Claim 11 recites two arms with first and second conditioners, respectively, which contradicts claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 7,8, 11-15,17,18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chopra et al.-6,361,411.

Chopra discloses a CMP system having a rotatable or linear polishing member, a slurry dispenser, at least two conditioning members (92,94,96,98, 202,204, etc.) mounted on an arm independently movable, alignable, and adjustable with respect to one another to contact surface at various pressures and speeds and directions, wherein in one embodiment (Fig. 8) the conditioners have two arms, each carrying a conditioner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103(a)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains.

Art Unit: 3723

Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chopra in view of Hakomori et al.-6,116,997.

Chopra does not disclose the conditioners having pressure sensors. However, Hakomori discloses a CMP system having a rotatable polishing member, a slurry dispenser, at least two conditioning members (10) independently movable and adjustable with respect to one another to contact surface at various speeds, directions, and pressures based on data from pressure sensors, wherein the conditioners have two arms, each carrying a conditioner. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at time invention was made to provide the conditioners of Chopra with sensors, as taught by Hakomori, in order to accurately adjust the conditioners for precise conditioning.

6. Claims 5,6,16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chopra in view of Sommer et al.-6,447,374.

Chopra does not disclose that the conditioners are discs that are gimbaled independently. However, Sommer et al. teaches a CMP system having either a cylindrical or disc conditioner, wherein the disc is gimbaled to scan across or rotate against the polishing member. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at time invention was made to substitute the conditioners of Chopra with conditioning discs, as taught by Sommers, in order to scan across the polishing member conditioning a greater area more efficiently.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3,5-9,11-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Contrary to Applicant's arguments, Chopra discloses and arm (164) with independently movable and alignable conditioners (90-100).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
